

CROWLEY'S RIDGE COLLEGE

THRIVE!

2025

INTRODUCTION

As a new member of the faculty of Tusculum College in 2009, I was often reminded of the fact that the college was established in 1794 and had a long history of success. The administration was understandably proud of the longevity of the school and seemed to feel that the 200 plus year history added a certain weight and dignity to the operations of the college that were not necessarily present at other, younger colleges.

This opinion was not shared by many of the faculty members. In fact, some of the older members of the Department of Mathematics had developed their own saying over the years; "Tusculum College - turning the corner for two centuries."

This humorous saying illustrated a disconnect between the administration, who rarely remained at the college for more than a handful of years, and the long serving faculty members who had seen numerous plans developed by numerous administrations fail to make a significant impact on the fortunes of the college.

At Crowley's Ridge College, we too have experienced our share of hardship and decline, but we are committed to taking the actions that are necessary to "turn the corner" to a brighter future. We refuse to be mired in a never ending cycle of simply reacting to the most recent emergency situation.

It is no longer enough to survive; we intend to THRIVE.

MISSION OF THE COLLEGE

Crowley's Ridge College is a private, four-year, church-affiliated but autonomous, coeducational liberal arts college, providing for its students a balanced course of studies appropriate for bachelor and associate degrees.

While CRC is affiliated with the Churches of Christ, students of all religious backgrounds are welcome at CRC. The student population comprises both non-traditional and traditional residential and commuter students.

CRC is committed to a continual emphasis on the integration of scholarship, critical reasoning, and the spiritual dimension of life. Preserving a commitment to a tradition of small class sizes and a philosophy of open enrollment helps CRC maintain a focus on the whole student as an individual.

PRESIDENTIAL VISION

Crowley's Ridge College will continue being a beacon of light that shines brightly throughout this local and multi-state area, nation, and world. CRC's board of trustees, faculty, and staff are fully committed to this higher education institution being a quality, Christian college and we remain committed to our strong Church of Christ heritage. Given how busy and successful Satan is today, CRC's Christian higher education environment is needed more now than perhaps any other time in history.

CRC is committed to increasing its enrollment to 500 students by expanding degree programs, improving student retention, expanding classes, working with other colleges, universities, and community colleges through articulation agreements and degree completion programs, and by working with high schools in providing concurrent classes.

CRC will improve and increase marketing and fundraising efforts, and will improve current facilities and build new facilities.

CRC will extend its outreach in working with churches and the Christian community. Our Bible department and administration will be reaching out to churches to see how we can be supportive and offer Christian growth opportunities for all ages.

Events of interest to all age groups will be hosted on CRC's campus.

CRC will work to partner with corporations and businesses to establish paying internship opportunities for students aimed at decreasing student loan debt.

CRC will become a college that is both inwardly focused on how to better serve students' needs and outwardly focused on how to serve the needs beyond its campus.

Richard Johnson, Ed.D.
President

ACCOUNTABILITY

Assessment

Each operational unit engages in planning and assessment on an annual basis. The purpose of this planning and assessment is to align the goals of every operational unit with the mission and goals of CRC.

The assessment will also ensure that every operation unit is collecting and analyzing data from students and other internal and external stakeholders in order to improve the effectiveness of services.

At the same time, the assessment will provide an opportunity for operational units to communicate their successes and challenges to the college leadership.

Budgeting

The budget manager and their direct supervisor shall appear before the Executive Committee prior to April 21 of each year to request funds for the subsequent fiscal year's budget. The budget for the subsequent fiscal year is assumed to be zero until the requested funds are approved during the meeting of the Executive Committee. This assumption is in purposeful adherence with the principles of zero based budgeting.

The budget request shall contain categories (lines) with titles that are sufficiently descriptive to assist the Executive Committee in their decision making process. The committee will enter a vote to determine funding for each individual category.

The Executive Committee shall prioritize specific budget categories that directly support, as evidenced by a written argument, one or more of the following:

- A. Strategic planning goals/objectives of the college.
- B. General education student learning outcomes.
- C. Program level student learning outcomes.

The budget manager may appeal the denial of such funding requests, with the written support of the Chair of the Academic and/or Operational Assessment Committee, within seven days of the meeting of the Executive Committee. The President shall make the final determination concerning the appeal and notify, in writing, the budget manager of his or her decision.

CONCLUSION

The strategic plan that you have just read encapsulates many hours, days, weeks, and months of planning by the CRC community. I am extremely grateful to the members of the Strategic Planning Steering Committee and our faculty and staff who helped develop the main components of Thrive 2025. It was very intentional to begin this strategic plan by focusing upon the mission of CRC. The mission is what drives the presidential vision in this strategic plan and both the mission and presidential vision are each strongly connected to the three strategic goals in this plan: (1) Field of Dreams, (2) Paragould's College, and (3) Drive to 500.

Thrive 2025 will serve as our guide in reaching the numerous objectives and timelines within each of the three strategic goals for this plan. Achieving each component within this plan will not be easy but it can be done. I know this through visiting with many higher education experts about how to overcome decline and successfully turnaround a small Christian higher education institution. Research reveals numerous small colleges who struggled for many years being able to recognize decline, develop a plan, and turn around their institutions with many continuing to thrive today.

Crowley's Ridge College Thrive 2025 will transpire as we work together and as we give God the glory for blessing us each step of the way.
